HADITH OF THE MONTH:

. There is nothing in the Qur'aan to say that we should celebrate the Mawlid or birthday of the Prophet (saaws). The Prophet himself (saaws) did not do this or command anyone to do it, either during his lifetime or after his death. Indeed, he told them not to exaggerate about him as the Christians had exaggerated about Jesus (pbuh). He said: "Do not exaggerate about me as the Christians exaggerated about the son of Maryam. I am only a slave, so say, 'The slave of Allaah and His Messenger.'" - (Reported by al-Bukhaari).

What has been reported is that the Prophet (saaws) made the day of his birth a day of worship, which is different to celebration. He was asked about fasting on Mondays, and he said: "That is the day on which I was born and the day on which I was entrusted with the Mission or when I was first given Revelation." (Reported by Muslim, al-Nisaa'i and Abu Dawood).
